

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Thursday July 10th, 1873.

CORRESPONDENTS are requested to write upon but one side of their paper. This request we presume has been made by every newspaper ever published, but articles come day after day written on both sides of the page. To those who do not understand the reason for this rule, we will explain. An article, two or three pages long, is often cut into several pieces called "takes," and distributed among the various printers employed in the office. They are paid for the amount of work they do, and an article written on both sides of a paper must always be given to one printer, and it might be very "fat" or particularly good copy, which would disgust the other printers, or it might be so poorly written and disjointed that it would be called "lean," and disgust the man who had to set it up, and see others making a dollar or so a day more than he could. So all long articles, whether "fat" or "lean," are cut up into "takes" by the foreman, and there is no cause for grumbling. As a rule, printers are as good natured a set of mechanics as any trade we are familiar with, but we never saw one yet who got a long article, written on both sides, who didn't commiserate with himself for a brief period. In consequence of this hatred of that class of "copy," an editor—who generally stands in awe of his type clicking human machines—often casts such communications into the waste basket, or if he has time, and the subject warrants it, re-writes the letter. We have been thus explicit that correspondents may know why it is that editors invariably beg their friends to use but one side of their paper. Will they all take heed, and govern themselves accordingly?

ANOTHER horrible murder in Hoboken by an undiscovered gang of rogues has shocked the country. Mr. Carl Kustner who lately arrived here from Europe, after braving death upon many a battle field and visiting the principal cities of the old world arrived in America but a few days ago, and going out, evidently to bathe, was assaulted, murdered and robbed. He was known to have a large amount of money on his person. No clue to the assassin, nor will there ever be. Murder after murder has been committed in that vicinity and no avenging spirit has yet appeared to point out the blood stained murder. It is a spot disgraceful to the land and should be guarded as a yawning gulf and signals placed there to warn the people of the dangerous character of the frequenter of the rocky pass. Worse than the lava beds, within the sound of the church bells of New York, a disgrace upon civilization, we think it is nearly time for a removal of some of the Indian fighters from the Klamath region to the rocks of Hoboken.

The New York Times says, it appears that Walworth was not removed to Sing Sing last week, because his counsel and family thought it might be "inconvenient" to the young gentleman to be taken from New York. Are we quite sure that he wishes to go to Sing Sing at all? It might, as Mr. O'Connor says, be a stain upon the Empire City if the murderer were subjected to the ignominy of living with convicts. Perhaps the best course would be to give him a public testimonial, and let him start off on that European tour which was interrupted by the slight accident to his father. At least we hope that when next some poor friendless wretch is ordered to be "sent up," the Sheriff will ask him whether it is quite convenient for him to go, and whether he would not prefer remaining in New York?

Says the Charlotte Democrat of the 7th inst: "We learn that yesterday (Sunday, July 6th), the Rev. J. C. Williams, the pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Hopewell, in this county, was suddenly struck down by a stroke of paralysis while in his pulpit. He had just finished reading the morning lesson and had sat down, when his head was observed to drop forward. Two or three members of the congregation hurried to him and found him speechless and helpless. He was still alive late Sunday evening. Mr. Williams was about 52 years of age—was a popular minister and much beloved by his congregation."

RALEIGH is about to organize a jockey club.

COME BACK.
Since thou art gone the sun hath ceased its shining,
The silent days, love, creep too slowly by,
And my heart is filled with vague yearning,
Which breaks through tears and many a hungry sigh.
Joy fled with thee the day that saw us part,
And left despair sole tenant of my heart.
Thy kisses still upon my lips are burning,
Thy looks of love are mirrored in my soul;
Nor doth my stride avail to soothe the yearning.
Whose passion mocks at reason and control.
Vain task! to quell the grief that will not sleep—
Thou being gone, how can I choose but weep?
Come back again! Mine eyes in tender longing
Turn toward the land by thy possession blest;
While hopes dream-born delusively are thronging
With sweet expectancy my aching breast.
Come back again, heart of my choice,
And break the silence waiting for thy voice.

The Emancipator's Monument.
Soon after the assassination of President Lincoln, it was announced in the St. Louis Democrat that a colored woman named Charlotte Scott, then residing in Marietta, Ohio, had sent $5, "her first earnings in freedom," to Mr. Yeatman, President of the Western Sanitary Commission, to help build a monument in memory of the Great Emancipator. The publication of this fact led to an enthusiastic response from several colored regiments in Tennessee and other Western Southern States. But the disturbance of feeling throughout the South, during the first year of President Johnson's Administration, checked the current, and the contributions ceased, after the amount had reached about $15,000. The project has now been revived, and the St. Louis Democrat of Friday last, says: "The original sum was reduced by costs of collection and by several unsuccessful efforts to obtain a suitable design. But by increase of interest received, the fund now in hands of the Sanitary Commission, is about $21,000, and we are gratified to announce that an order has been sent to Thomas Ball, in Florence, for a group to be executed in bronze, colossal size. It has already been executed in marble, reduced size, (four feet high) and has been seen by visitors to Ball's studio during the last five years; for it was done by the artist immediately after the President's assassination, with the hope that it would be some day wanted to tell the emancipation story."
One of the members of the Sanitary Commission, being in Florence two years ago, requested Mr. Ball to keep it for the present use, and the fund having now reached the requisite amount, and photographs of the group having been received and approved, the design has been accepted and the order sent forward. It is expected to be finished, including a white marble pedestal twelve feet high, and delivered in Washington City in about two years, to be unveiled and dedicated, perhaps, on the anniversary of Mr. Lincoln's death, in 1876. We have seen a photograph of the group, which consists of two figures, Lincoln in the act of emancipating a slave, who kneels at his feet; and on the marble pedestal we read the immortal words of the proclamation, suggested by Mr. Chase and adopted by Mr. Lincoln: "On this act I invoke the consideration judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God." The figure of Mr. Lincoln is well managed, the likeness remarkably good, and the whole presentation has the best characteristics of genius, simplicity, and clearness of meaning. We see nothing of the horrors of slavery, except the symbolic chains which have fallen from the slave's hands, while the freedman is a vigorous, strong, athletic man, whose whole figure shows a kind physical treatment, but whose face is full of gratitude, as he looks up, seemingly in thanksgiving to God, that the great boon of freedom has been conferred."

The New York Herald, speaking of the cholera, says it has so far abated in Nashville that the Robertson Association, a voluntary sanitary society, which has devoted itself to the relief of sufferers from the disease, has been disbanded, and many physicians have been dismissed who were engaged by the authorities to wait upon cholera patients among the poor. But in disappearing from the city the disease has broken out in the towns and villages of the surrounding country, and in Murfreesboro' and other places in that direction it prevails to an alarming extent. It thus appears that the epidemic has made Nashville a base of operations, from which, having consumed its available materials there, it is diffusing itself on all sides into the neighboring towns and counties. Starting from New Orleans, the disease in its progress up the Mississippi, has visited Memphis and other points along the river up to its junction with the Ohio at Cairo, and from which point it has pursued the line of the main stream to St. Louis, and the Ohio to Louisville and Cincinnati, and rumor says to Pittsburg. At all events the cholera, as an epidemic, starting from New Orleans up the Mississippi, is moving, by the line of the Ohio, eastward; and our city authorities will be guilty of a gross neglect of a most important duty if, upon pooling suggestions of danger, they remain inactive and console themselves with the delusion that there is no cholera as an epidemic in the country.

RALEIGH men indulge in cruelty to animals, whereupon the News calls for a society to prevent such shameful conduct. It says: "Monday evening a poor dog was caught by some one or two men and so punished that the dog ran, and yelled, and rolled and rubbed. The cry of mad dog was raised and the dog was killed by almost slow torture—all this on Fayetteville street."

SIXTH YEAR.

THE ALDINE.

An illustrated monthly journal, universally admitted to be the handsomest, periodical in the world. A representative and champion of American taste.

NOT FOR SALE IN BOOK OR NEWS STORES.

THE ALDINE, WHILE ISSUED WITH all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated when it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original condition—alone unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any shape or number of volumes, for ten times its cost, and then there are the chromos besides!

ART DEPARTMENT.

Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last fall, when THE ALDINE assumed its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition was more than doubled during the past year, proving that the American public appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of Art. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the utmost to develop and improve the work; and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even the most sanguine friends of THE ALDINE.

The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists of America.

In addition THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest, avoiding such as have become familiar through photographs, or copies of any kind.

The quarterly plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of John S. Davis' inimitable child-sketches, appropriate to four seasons.

These plates, appearing in the issues for January, April, July and October, would be alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

The popular feature of a copiously-illustrated "Christmas" number will be continued.

To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world, at a cost so trifling, will command the subscriptions of thousands in every section of the country, but as the usefulness and attractiveness of THE ALDINE can be enhanced in proportion to the numerical increase of its supporters, the publishers propose to make "assurance doubly sure" by the following unparalleled offer of

PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1873:

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive without additional charge a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the eminent English painter. The pictures entitled "The Village Belle" and "Crossing the Moor" are 14x20 inches—are printed from 25 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determination of the conductors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of competition in every department, the chromos will be found exceedingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every subscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribution of this grade, free to the subscribers of a $5 periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of art, and considering the unprecendented cheapness of the price for THE ALDINE itself, the marvel falls little short of a miracle, even to those best acquainted with the publishers, and the inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances. (For illustrations of these chromos see Nov. issue of THE ALDINE.)

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT

will continue under the care of Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of THE ALDINE always in keeping with its artistic attractions.

TERMS:

FIVE DOLLARS per annum, in advance, with oil-chromos free. THE ALDINE will hereafter be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscription must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fact-simile signature of Jas. Sutton & Co. AGENTS WANTED.

Any person wishing to act permanently as a local agent, will receive full and prompt information by applying to JAS. SUTTON & CO. Publishers, No. 58 Maiden Lane, New York.

THE FASHIONABLE SOUVENIR.

FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON. This year will contain an THE SUPERB VOLUME OF THE ALDINE.

Richly bound in morocco cloth, assorted colors, beveled boards, red edges, gilt on back and sides—a truly royal volume—a gallery of fine art engravings that will be at once a great pleasure to the recipient, and a demonstration of the taste of the donor. There are about 300 plates, most of which could not be matched in size or quality in the art stores at a dollar each. They comprise designs by the leading painters and draughtsmen of day, giving the widest range of figure, animal and landscape subjects, combined with pure, light and graceful literature, edited by the poet scholar, Richard Henry Stoddard, forming a most attractive ornament for the parlor or library.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY TIMES

Will contain Selected Editorials from the Daily Times; General News, Domestic and Foreign; The Proceedings of Congress and the State Legislatures; Full and interesting Correspondence; Book Reviews; The Choice Literary Selections; while its most prominent feature will be a COMPLETE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT, with original articles from practical farmers, full reports of the American Institute Farmers' Club; complete weekly market reports; financial, domestic produce, live stock, dry goods and general.

AS A FAMILY PAPER.

The Times will have no superior; it will be free from all appeals to vulgar and impure tastes, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle.

AS A REPUBLICAN JOURNAL.

The Times will be devoted, as in the past, to an intelligent and firm support of the Republican Party. Its course in reference to the Tammany Ring, a time when all the other daily papers in New York obstructed and discouraged its efforts, attests its sincerity in the cause of Reform. The Times stood alone in demanding Reform from 1859 to the close of 1871, and there is no sincere and honest proposal for Reform in any branch of the Government, which will not be heartily supported by the Times. But it will not conspire in assisting ambitious politicians or demagogues to reach power under false pretenses. It will not encourage defection from the Republican Party, which is still the party of progress, security and national prosperity.

It will sustain, with all the force and influence at its command, the principles and policy which have rendered that party so justly famous in our history. It will advocate those measures by which the honor, the peace, and the prosperity of the nation can be best secured and promoted, and will constantly study the wants of the people rather than the wishes of the politicians.

THE NEW YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES

Is published every Tuesday and Friday, and contains all the agricultural and literary matter of the Weekly edition, and a full and careful compilation of editorial and news features of the Daily.

Terms of the Semi-Weekly Times: One copy, one year, $3; two copies, one year, $5; ten copies, one year, $25—and one extra copy free.

We especially call the attention to the following testimonials of the Paint: C. P. Knight, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have used Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint on my dwelling last Spring, and am much pleased with it, and it looks as well now as when first painted, and consider it a good Paint. Yours truly, A. H. STRASBAUGH. Creswell P. O., Hartford county, Md., Feb. 6th, 1873.

THE PLAINS, FAUQUIER CO., VA., Feb. 6th, 1873. Mr. C. P. Knight—Sir: The Paint came safely to hand as ordered—two kegs, five gallons each, and three buckets, one gallon each. As practice was slack, I did the job myself. Two weeks (not constant work) completed the house two coats. The last coat I applied thick, and it is now generally conceded that for enamel-like hardness, and body, and harmony of colors, there is not a handsomer job in the place. I saved sixty-five dollars by the operation, which is an item just now with Southern people. It should be generally adopted in this State. Any country lad can apply it. I have never dabbled in paint so the wants of our people, in excellency of material, in beauty of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed" that I give you free permission, (if it is desirable to you,) to make what use you think proper of this letter.

Very respectfully and truly, S. MCGILL, M. D.

To the PUBLIC.—It affords me much pleasure to state that in July, 1871, Front Street Theatre was painted inside and out with "Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint," for which C. P. Knight, No. 93 West Lombard Street, is agent, and to testify to its superiority over any and all other paints for similar uses. In no private dwelling can paint possibly be subjected to the very severe test it undergoes at this establishment, where, during our daily cleaning, soap and soda are constantly applied to it, and yet it appears as our daily mention its being mixed and ready for use in quantities to suit purchasers, its quickly drying properties, which save much time in the execution of work were much to be desired, and its very perceptible tenacity, which imparts beauty and durability to the objects on which it is used. As such I most earnestly recommend it to the merchants and tradesmen of our city, believing it will give them greater satisfaction than any can possibly anticipate.

WM. E. SINN, Front Street Theatre.

CHAMBERSBURG, December 10th, 1872. Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear Sir:—The paints we received from you have been applied to several of our own buildings and to those of our friends, and have given entire satisfaction in covering qualities, in gloss, and in adaptability to all kinds of surface of material and we cheerfully recommend it, especially to that class of consumers who have to depend upon unknown parties, or painters to mix and furnish materials, wherein we have found the most deception.

Yours truly, JACOB STOFFER & SON.

FROM HON. JOHN WETHERED.

Mr. C. P. Knight—At the recommendation of a friend, I was induced to apply your "Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint" to my house. I have pleasure in stating that it has proved highly satisfactory, covering more surface than you promised, is more economical, carries better gloss than ordinary paint, and is free from disagreeable odor.

Yours, Respectfully, JOHN WETHERED.

BALTIMORE, December 27th, 1871. Mr. C. P. Knight, Esq., Agent for Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint—Dear Sir:—The paint we purchased from you we will cheerfully endorse as the best of any kind of paint we used; its covering qualities are everything desired, drying promptly and with a hard gloss which, we think, resist the action of all kinds of weather. This is our experience, and we can recommend it with certainty, and intend to use it on all occasions where we desire a good job of work.

Very Respectfully, EMART & QUARTLEY, 270 W. Baltimore St. House, Sign and Fresco Painters.

PLASANTVILLE, HARTFORD CO., MD. Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear Sir:—I am very happy to inform you that your "Patent Enamel Paint" has given me great satisfaction. I prefer it to any paint I have ever seen used, and recommend it for durability and beauty as paramount to any other.

Very Respectfully, R. DICKEY, M. D. C. P. KNIGHT, Sole Agent, No. 93 W. Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Harper's Magazine.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly, proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we may consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudices or depraved tastes.

The character which this Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that has kept pace with it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.
